

Steve Rowland

11 November 2021

I am writing on behalf of The Royal Society for the Protection of Birds (RSPB) in support of Boston City Status.

Part of what makes Boston special is its history, geography, in particular its position next to The Wash, the UK's most important estuary for wild birds, a landscape which has helped to shape the town over the centuries. Now as Boston looks to the future and takes pride in all that makes it special and deserving of city status, we hope that it continues to draw strength and a sense of identity rooted in its unique natural environment.

As a national charity managing two popular nature reserves in the borough since 1984, we have seen the pride that the people of Boston take in where they live. Through our work at Frampton Marsh and Freiston Shore we are honoured to have been able to play our small part in making Boston a better place to live and work and now to offer our support for your campaign for city status.

I wish you all the success in your submission.

Yours,

Steve Rowland
Area Manager – Norfolk & Lincolnshire
Working from home
Steve.rowland@rspb.org.uk
07753 776379

RSPB Frampton Marsh and Freiston Shore
Roads Farmhouse
Frampton Roads
Frampton, BOSTON
PE20 1AY

Tel: 01205 724678
Facebook: RSPBLincs
Twitter: @RSPBNorfolkLinc
rspb.org.uk

The RSPB is part of BirdLife International, a partnership of conservation organisations working to give nature a home around the world.

